“Western Australia’s water reform agenda – moving ahead”
Welcome & Acknowledgements

- The Nyoongar People
- Presenters
- Acknowledge financial support:
  - Department of Water, Western Australia
  - CRC for Water Sensitive Cities
- Assistance in preparation of the conference:
  - Australian Water Association
  - National Centre for Groundwater Research & Training
  - National Environmental Law Association (WA)
  - Chamber of Minerals and Energy (WA)
Conference Opening: Where are we headed with Water Resources Law Reform?

The Hon. Mia Davies, MLA
The Minister for Water, WA
Minister for Sport and Recreation; Forestry
December 2010
Session 1 - Water Resource Law Reform: Pressures, Precedents and Principles

- Dr Rebecca Nelson
  Lessons from California and Perspectives from other Australian States

- Professor Barbara Cosens
  The Adaptive Water Governance Project in Australia: Law as a Tool for Adaptation

- Dr Des Lord
  The National Water Initiative and beyond: some reflections from a WA perspective
Session 2: Key Issues and Perspectives for Water Resources Reform in WA

- Tad Bagdon, Department of Water
  - The Key Issues and Proposals for Water Resources Law Reform

- Peter Bowyer,
  - Urban Amenity and Development
Session 3
Water Resources and the Mining Industry

- Daniela Tonon & Fiona Sinclair, HSF
  Developing a legal framework for managing the cumulative impacts of mine dewatering

- Ambellin & Blaze Kwaymullina
  Aboriginal engagement in water resource management for extractive industries

- Natalie Brown
  State Agreements and the regulation of water resources
Session 4: Developing Alternative Sources and Protecting Water Quality

- Tad Bagdon, Department of Water
  A Framework for Allocating and Distributing Waste Water and Storm Water Resources

- David Horn, GHD
  Experience with the Regulation of Waste Water and Storm Water Resources

- Assoc Prof Alex Gardner
  Catchment Management for Protecting Water Quality: Why the reticence to regulate diffuse water pollution